Thank you to the CB Noon Rotary Club for contributing books and funds to purchase books for the Raise Me to Read initiative in our community. To date, Lutheran Family Services, Visiting Nurses Association, Section 8 Public Housing, Centro Latino Center, WIC (Women, Infant and Children's Program), and Boystown have been provided a total of 780 books. They will use these books to give to young children during home visits and during groups, classes and office visits. Section 8 Public Housing will be mailing a book to children at their homes as a birthday gift with a celebratory card. They will all receive messaging with the book, both in a bookmark and personally from staff, regarding the importance of reading to their child from birth for brain development, vocabulary building and school readiness. I will continue to fulfill requests from local early childhood agencies for books throughout the year.
